What's new in Fantasy Grounds - Moon At The Edge Of Oblivion:

Comments (0) There has been 6 positive tests for Ebola in Sierra Leone in a month. Health care workers and other emergency responders have taken poorly. It's a true epidemic. Banks are soaring. The central bank is defaulting. The stock market has a new record high. Our quality of life is attacked at every turn. Even our food and water is poisoned. Choice is bludgeoned into submission. Yet, ignorance is bliss. You only have to look at the room full of people pretending to care in Washington right now to know that you can do anything without making a serious effort. Let's all take a step back and see who can really feel good about what we're doing right now. Torture is one of the most effective tools of a totalitarian or dictatorial regime. The Torture Chamber of Secrets is a window into the living hell that is our present-day America. It's a graphic depiction of the perverse imagination and evil embedded in every college dorm room, safe-house, military base, embassy and central intelligence agency and security contract company that we have created. It's a description of a culture of centralized control and perpetual fear that has infected us all. How many millions did the Bush White House torture? At least seven million. Despite all of this, people are still being arrested and prosecuted. It's as if society breaks out in tears when people connected with the central government get in trouble. But it's as if they celebrated when Mattress Girl was caught. As someone who spent 20 years in high levels of intelligence during the Cold War, I am sick and tired of dangerous people who are connected in the highest levels of politics and government getting away with things that would bring us up short. These people are free to do and say whatever they like. But we must remind them who they are and who they serve. The only way to fight the scourge of torture and silence is to prosecute those who have no right to be investigating it in the first place. It's time to expose these people in the most public way possible. Controlling Information By Benjamin Fulford Secretary of Defense, Declassified "For those of you who might not know, I am a scientist. I was not on the front lines of the Iraq War. I was not in the inner sanctum of the Defense Department. [I] worked at the U.S. Space Science Laboratory at Los Alamos in New Mexico.

Breaking Wheel is an intense, side-scrolling multiplayer driving game in which physics, not skill, count. Two teams compete to be the first to score a wheel. Each match comes down to your ability to control your vehicle in a desperate race to smash your opponent's wheel off the board before they do. Will you be the first to win? Or the last? Be careful, you're going to need every bit of physics knowledge you've ever had. Key Features: - 2 Player Gameplay for up to 4 players - Realistic physics with bent and snapped beams - Uneven terrain on all levels - avoid crashing off a cliff on level 4, or going through a tunnel on level 1 - 50 beautiful levels (and counting) - Intuitive controls with a unique virtual stick for acceleration and turning - Use all sorts of vehicles including carts, vans, jeeps and more - Team modes to test your wits and brawn in - Classic modes to put your skills to the test in the oldest kind of game - 1 versus 1, team versus team and on! - Leaderboards to check your skills and rank up! - 40+ original tracks from 90's pop bands like New Kids on the Block, Backstreet Boys, NSYNC and more
