The Pencil of God description: In 2001 Robinson was commissioned by the BBC Young Musician of the Year awards to compose a piece of music. Of his performance on the Grand National piano, he stated "I was astonished at the last performance as I did not even know that I was capable of playing such a complex piece with enough power to express the emotions that the idea was designed to. I was truly stunned with the depth of feeling in the performance and in that moment I just knew that I must do something with the project." [1] The Pencil of God performed live on Radio 4 from 15:13 BST on 25 September 2001. [1] After the success of this performance, BBC commissioned Robinson to write the music for the next two years of the series, starting with the 1000th anniversary of the Battle of Hastings, 15 years after the original performance. It was the first large scale commission for Robinson as composer and was completed in 2004. [2] The Pencil of God performed live on Radio 4 from 15:00 BST on 18 November 2003. [3] The performance marked the first time Robinson performed a piece outside the UK, since the broadcast of his college recitals and in a televised performance. [3] If you want to learn piano, you can download the lesson files for free and the blank score and sheet music from above. Chiming Chorus: This is a scale that is used to tell time. It starts on the first tone with a rise on the third, and ends on the fifth with a fall on the third. The Universal Chiming Chorus was written by Henry Artz, first published in 1865 by R. Barnes, Boston, U.S.A. in Musical Illustrations, by J. Piper, Boston, U.S.A. It is entered in the Pampelmusea as Neue Tonart No.9 b7e8fdf5c8
